Subjective:PACE follow up

74 years old female with past medical history significant for stroke, CAD status post PCI, PAD status post angioplasty, paroxysmal A-fib, sick sinus syndrome status post pacemaker placement, heart failure with recovered ejection fraction, type 1 diabetes mellitus, essential hypertension, hyperlipidemia, cognitive impairment, cataract and other comorbidities presenting to the clinic for routine follow-up on her initial pace evaluation.

She reports not taking her prescribed blood pressure medication today due to a late breakfast. She does not have a home blood pressure monitor.

She has a history of heart failure, but her ejection fraction has improved to 60%. She has had two pacemaker insertions in the past.

She experiences shortness of breath, particularly during physical exertion such as walking. She is uncertain if this symptom is related to anxiety or another underlying condition.

She did not take her insulin today. She has an upcoming appointment with an endocrinologist on 04/17/2026 for diabetes management.

She reports a sensation of fullness in both ears, occasionally accompanied by popping sounds. She has been experiencing mild headaches since yesterday. She does not report any numbness or tingling sensations.

Denies any chest pain.
